

“Mourn for the Dead, Fight for the Living - Now more than ever”

On April 28, 2008, we mark the 24th anniversary of the National Day of Mourning for workers killed and injured on the job. The National Day of Mourning is an initiative of the Canadian Labour Congress and was started in 1984. It is now celebrated around the world.

Please join the Victoria Labour Council as we mark this important day with a memorial to mourn the loss of our fellow workers and to observe a moment of silence

Meet at 12:00 noon,
Monday, April 28
BC Legislature front steps

In B.C. an average of

- Three workers die each week
- More than 3,000 work injuries are reported every week
- 20 workers are permanently disabled every working day

Every year on April 28, we honour the memory of Canadian workers who have lost their lives due to work-related injuries or occupational diseases. The annual Day of Mourning is an opportunity to remember those fallen workers and to re-commit to creating safer workplaces.
